Call for Papers on Women, Peace, and Security

The Naval War College welcomes paper proposals for its 10th annual Women, Peace, and Security Conference (May 2-3, 2024) in Newport, Rhode Island. The event brings together U.S. and international scholars and experts, civilian and military practitioners and leaders to better understand our complex and dynamic security environment. It examines women's full and equal participation, decision-making, and leadership, alongside men, in promoting lasting peace and security. Select papers will be considered for publication in a book related to the Symposium theme "Advancing Gendered Security in a Complex World: Hard Power, Smart Power, Soft Power."

Symposium objectives are aligned with: (i) the United Nations Security Council's landmark resolution 1325 (2000) on Women, Peace, and Security, (ii) the U.S. WPS Act (2017), and (iii) the U.S. Department of Defense WPS Strategic Framework and Implementation Plan (2020). The event will present current and historical case studies from any world region demonstrating that gender-inclusive peace and security efforts lead to enduring and innovative outcomes.
