

ABOUT THE CONTRIBUTORS

Major Ian Palmer is a US Army Armor officer with previous assignments that include service as a cavalry troop commander, cavalry squadron operations officer and executive officer, and a heavy Brigade Combat Team executive officer. His operational deployments include service in Kosovo and Turkey, and three tours in Iraq. MAJ Palmer is a 1997 graduate of the University of Notre Dame with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology. He lives in Jamestown, RI with his wife and five children and is currently a student at the Naval War College.

Lieutenant Commander Dhananjay K Singh is a Surface Warfare Officer in the Indian Navy with specialization in Communications and Electronic warfare. He is a graduate from National Defense Academy, Khadakwasla, the tri-service training institution of India. He received his Masters in Telecommunication from Cochin University, India in 2008. His previous appointments include service as Communication Officer onboard a host of frontline Indian Navy ships, command of Indian Navy Fast Attack Craft as a Lieutenant in 2006 - 2007 and Flag Aide to the Flag Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Western Naval Command, Mumbai. Prior to joining the Naval War College in July 2012 for NSC 2013, LCDR Singh was Communications Officer on the Indian Navy Ship SHIVALIK, an indigenously-built stealth frigate of the Indian Navy. He is married and has a three year old son. His hobbies are fishing, reading and all kinds of sports.

Lieutenant Commander Josh Fagan is a Navy H-60 helicopter pilot. Previous tours include several cruises aboard the USS Ronald Reagan, as well as multiple deployments to Iraq as aircraft commander and mission lead. A 1999 graduate of the US Air Force Academy, LCDR Fagan served as an Air Force acquisitions officer in Oklahoma City before transferring into the Navy. He currently lives in Newport, RI with his wife and is a student at the Naval War College.

Lieutenant Commander Kathryn Krause is a Navy Nurse Corps Officer who specializes in Manpower Systems Analysis and Maternal/Infant/Pediatric Nursing. Previous tours include a M1 staff position at Navy Medicine East and deployment to JTF GTMO in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. She received her undergraduate education at Queens University and University of Central Florida and her graduate education at the University of Mary and the Naval Postgraduate School. LCDR Krause is married with eight children and two grandchildren and is currently a student at the Naval War College.

Major Tim Palmer is a US Army Infantry officer with previous assignments that include service as a rifle and specialty platoon leader, rifle and headquarters company commander, Ranger Instructor, and Small Group Instructor at the Army's Maneuver Captain's Career Course. His operational deployments include two combat tours in Iraq as platoon leader and company commander. MAJ Palmer is a 2001 graduate of North Georgia College and holds a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice. He lives in Jamestown, RI with his wife and two children and is currently a student at the Naval War College.

Mr. Gregory Macris is a career Foreign Service Officer and 17-year veteran of the Department of State, with a specialty in political affairs. Before beginning his studies at the National War College, Mr. Macris served as the director of the 23-man Civil-Military Support Team (CMST) in Parwan, Afghanistan, supporting the new-to-Afghanistan Provincial Reconstruction Team operated by the Republic of Korea. His other overseas assignments include Cyprus (political chief of section), Ecuador (political-military officer), Spain (political-consular officer), and the Dominican Republic (consular officer). Mr. Macris has served twice in Washington at State's 24-hour watch, the Operations Center, as well as in the Western Hemisphere Affairs bureau. He is the recipient of six Department superior honor awards and the Department's Sinclair Award for hard language study. He is a graduate of James Madison University in Harrisonburg, VA, with a Bachelor's degree in Information Systems and Economics.